THOMASON OF EL PASO IN COMANCHE FRIDAY

PROMISED RETRENCHMENTS IN CONDUCT OF STATE GOVERNMENT

Hon. Robert Ewing Thomason, speaker of the House of Representatives in the Texas Legislature, whose home is at El Paso, spoke to an audience of about 200 at the court house last Friday.

He was introduced by Hon. C. J. Lee, who paid him a high tribute as a man and as a public servant who possessed the confidence of all the members of the legislature who had learned to know him well. Mr. Thomason spoke for just one hour.

The speaker declared that he had pitched his campaign on a high plane and would not indulge in personalities unless his opponents compelled him to do so by making personal attacks on him. He first stated that prohibition and woman suffrage were settled issues, but proceeded to make a nice bid for prohibition votes and the support of the women in the primary by declaring he had always favored prohibition and woman suffrage. He explained his vote against the submission of the prohibition amendment by stating that his district voted against the proposition and he had "always obeyed the instructions of the people" when they had an opportunity to express themselves directly on a question. But when it came to ratification of the woman suffrage amendment he failed to make himself clear as to what he thought about the legislature violating the expressed will of the people of Texas. Of course he could not condemn the action of the legislature without offending the women whose support he was seeking, and in fact he was one of the leaders at Austin in consenting to this violation of the people's instructions, and he avoided any comment whatever on the crime thus perpetrated on the people of this state.

Like Mr. Neff, he endorsed everything Senator Bailey had said about the useless and extravagant expenditure of the people's money by the Hobby administration, and although he had helped to give both Hobby and the Wilson administrations hearty endorsement at the state convention, he promised if elected to curtail the criminal extravagance that had made the people's taxes mount higher and higher each year.

The speaker was loudly applauded, especially when dwelling on the two questions that he declared were settled and beyond further controversy, prohibition and woman suffrage.

Mr. Thomason is a man of intelligence and his talk was couched in dignified and courteous language. He made a most favorable impression and will have strong support among the anti-Bailey democrats of this county.

BRIDE CANNOT MARRY WITHOUT CLOTHES ON

New Orleans, June 19.—Because he said the bride was immodestly attired, Father Antoine yesterday stopped a marriage ceremony which he was to perform in a Catholic church here. He said her attire violated a recent order of Archbishop Shaw of the New Orleans diocese.

"The bride appeared so shocking that I had the sexton put out the lights so that she might retire and properly clothe herself," the priest said. He said she wanted to fly in high society at her wedding, "much to her disgrace."

Everything had been prepared for the wedding and the bridegroom was in the edifice. The bride started up the main aisle, but had not gone far before the priest viewing the gown, ordered the lights turned out and sent her home to assume other garments. The marriage ceremony was then performed.

THE SOUTH'S GREATEST LEADER IN OPENING CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR

ADDRESSES CROWD AT ATLANTA ESTIMATED
AT 5000 PEOPLE AND IS LOUDLY APPLAUDED

Striking Declarations

"I cannot agree that any American citizen is to be denied the right to make a living for himself and wife and children because he does not belong to a labor union, the democratic party or the Presbyterian church. I deny the right of any organization to proscribe him an outcast from honest employment, because he does not belong to this or that."

"I warn you farmers that if you allow labor unions to punish men who stand for equal rights for you, the time will come when men will not stand for equal rights for you. If you do not defend men who defend you, the time will come when men will not defend you."

"If union labor forces an eight hour law it must apply to farmers also, and union men must pay for farm staff produced under the eight hour basis."

"If we are going to have labor unions run the country, in God's name let's have Texas unions run Texas, and not take orders from old Sam Gompers at Washington."

"The people will destroy every labor union in Texas before they will allow labor unions to destroy the government."

"I grant labor the right to vote as it pleases, but I deny it the right as a class to control the government."

Boldly answering the charge of his accusers that he had done no important acts during the 22 years that he was in congress as representative and senator from Texas, Joseph W. Bailey, candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination defended his career before an audience estimated at 5,000 in the school grove at Atlanta, Cass county, last Saturday.

Previous to the speaking music furnished by the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce band, after which the chairman of the democratic executive committee of Cass county thanked the members of the audience for their presence. He was followed by Hardy F. O'Neal who introduced Mr. Bailey.

Senator Bailey launched into his speech by stating that he had been much maligned and that those who were speaking against him were not telling the truth. He paid his respects to the preachers, many of whom he said "were going to hell" because they were accepting statements of politicians about him as the truth, when in reality these utterances are calumnies. He declared he had great respect for gospel preachers and that he is a friend of the church in trying to keep it out of affairs of state.

Senator Sheppard's statement widely circulated in Texas papers before the precinct conventions became the object of Mr. Bailey's remarks. Mr. Bailey assented to the statement by qualifying it with the explanation that during the years he was in congress no other democratic representative or senator ever introduced and secured the passage of any important constructive bill for the reason they were in the minority, and the republicans would not allow such measures to be reported from the committee rooms. He declared the greatest representative Texas ever had was David B. Culberson, and that he never had introduced or passed any important constructive measure.

Another reply he made was that answering the charge that he was an emissary of the liquor interests. "They will tell you that I am making this race to bring whisky back into Texas, and they have made many good men and women believe this," said the ex-senator. "They whispered it to the ministers of the gospel and they believed it, and have made many honest women credit the statement."

"I could not bring whisky back into Texas if I wanted to; and I would not if I could. My enemies could not have uttered a greater calumny against me. The politicians are leading the preachers to hell by means of this talk. No one has more respect for ministers of the gospel than I, but not for political preachers. I am the best friend the church has because I am trying to keep it from mixing with affairs of state—to keep them out of politics. A man never is converted by a preacher he does not believe. The membership of the church increased less last year than any one year in the last 35; all because the preachers were busy trying to save the country instead of trying to save souls."

Mr. Bailey, in recounting his congressional record during 22 years, asserted that though he went in the youngest man in congress, he was nominated over such men as Bland, of Missouri, and McMillan, of Tennessee, for the speakership of the house; and that he was appointed to first class committees.

"I had the support of Roger Q. Mills, but the place went to Crisp of Georgia. My record became such that I was appointed to a place on that most important committee, Ways and Means, but I preferred the Judiciary. Senator Culberson was on that committee, and although it was unusual to place two senators from the same state on that assignment, I was given it with him and served there four years. A democratic congress insisted that I should be transferred to the Ways and Means committee. That was not all. I am the only representative from Texas upon whom that distinction was conferred, yet Senator Sheppard says my record has not been above the ordinary. I ask, what in God's name has his been?"

Mr. Bailey told of the efforts of the republicans years ago to reduce representation of the south in congress and that while a member of the census committee the tenth year he was largely instrumental in rebuffing that assault on the rights of the south. He also narrated his action in defeating the republican speaker, Frye, when he had endeavored to prevent Senators Tillman and McLaurin of South Carolina, from voting when the roll was called, because the republicans took advantage of a personal encounter of the two statesmen in the senate chamber. This he declared was a real service not only to South Carolina but to all other states of the nation, because their rights would have been endangered by such a precedent.

Mr. Bailey asserted that a representative in congress can be of even more service by preventing passage of bad bills than of securing the passage of many bills. He also asserted there is too much legislation.

The manner in which the republicans were forced by Senator Bailey to pass the first income tax bill as a fiscal measure was related, an act of which he was proud. He declared he had done that when republican expenditures had been so great that the people were taxed to the limit on everything, and he had decided it was time for the rich to bear their share of the governmental cost. Mr. Bailey read an editorial from the New York Sun, then owned by Pierpont Morgan and company, he said in which it was stated that "Senator Bailey had compelled the republicans to pass the measure through a bluff which was executed with as cool effrontery as Cataline."

"But there was a difference between the effrontery of Cataline and of Bailey," remarked the former senator. "I acted for the benefit of my country, while Cataline opposed his country."

State matters then occupied the remainder of Mr. Bailey's speech. "When I am elected governor, the first thing I am going to do is to reduce expenses, provided the legislature will help me, but I cannot control that body, and wouldn't do it if I could. When a man is elected to one office he has his hands full if he performs the Continued on Page 5, Col. 3.

BLANTON SPEAKS OF THE PUBLIC ISSUES

SPEAKS TO SMALL BUT AP- PRECIATIVE AUDIENCE TUESDAY NIGHT

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton visited Comanche Tuesday and addressed a crowd of perhaps 150 people, including a number of ladies, at the court house that night. He was introduced by Mayor J. R. Eanes, who stated that he was taking no part in politics, but was free to state that he was for Judge Blanton to succeed himself as representative of this district.

Mr. Blanton apologized in the beginning for talking about himself, saying that inasmuch as the people elected him to represent them in Washington he would be compelled to make a report of his stewardship and would, therefore, have to talk of what he had done. He referred to the pledges he had made the people in his campaign two years ago, and said that unless he had redeemed those pledges and given the people the service he promised he was unworthy to represent them.

The speaker took up the wasteful practices in vogue in the administration of the affairs of the government and his statement as to the wholesale extravagance and criminal graft permitted in every department was highly edifying to those who heard him. He showed that the amount he had saved the people through his own individual effort in making points of order and filing minority reports amounted to not less than $300,000,000. He characterized the Rivers and Harbors appropriation as a graft, and said the large public buildings appropriation was gotten through by means of an agreement among congressmen not to oppose each other in the demands made upon the public treasury.

Mr. Blanton caused considerable merriment when referring to the "degrees" he had taken since being in congress in the effort to punish him for interfering with the schemes they had to graft the people. He said the government made every member of congress a present each year of a cedar chest, a pine chest, and an oak chest for his own personal use, and in his effort to cut off this private donation of public funds he had inquired of Uncle Joe Cannon what he had done with all his cedar chests that the government had presented to him during his forty-four years in congress.

Mr. Blanton spoke of the man who was really in supreme control of affairs at Washington, evidently referring to Samuel Gompers, who he said had never made a demand that had not been granted by the president and those in charge of the government's affairs. In refusing to take orders from this man, he said, he had been marked for defeat in the coming election, but he said unless the voters stood by those who were trying to protect them and fight their battles, congressmen would not have the courage to stand for honesty and justice.

Mr. Blanton is an earnest speaker and impresses his hearers with his sincerity and courage as a faithful public servant. At the close of his speech many came forward and shook his hand and pledged him their continued and hearty support.

CALLAWAY DENOUNCES ENTERPRISE EDITOR

INSTANTLY SENSES ODOR OF LITTLE CAT THAT SMELLS TO HIGH HEAVEN

To the Chief:

S. C. Findley, under his name and not over it, in the Comanche Enterprise and Weekly Wilsonian of Thursday, June 24, says, "The Comanche Chief, a good many years ago, was a first rate newspaper and was the champion of good government and good morals and community and state progress. Later it became a spineless sort of sheet, dominated by Oscar Callaway and his ilk, and stood for nothing in particular, while trying to please everybody."

Of course, S. C. Findley knew that statement was an unqualified, absolute and malicious falsehood. It was more than one malicious falsehood. The statement that it was dominated by Oscar Callaway and his ilk was a malicious falsehood and Findley knew it; the insinuation that Oscar Callaway and his ilk have not always stood for good government and good morals and community and state progress was another willful, malicious and unqualified falsehood—and S. C. Findley knew that.

Oscar Callaway has lived in Comanche county since 1887, he has served as county attorney, he has served in congress from this district for six (6) years, he has taken an active interest in the county since he was grown and he has always stood for the highest standard of morals, for the highest standard of government, and for all right progress in the community and state in everything that he has ever had anything to do with, and has been directly the opposite of spineless—and S. C. Findley knew that. His friends, social, political and financial, have always been the best and foremost citizens and the truest, frankest and most courageous men in Comanche county.

There are many good people who differ with Oscar Callaway in their political and religious views, and, like good people always are, have been honest, manly, upright and courageous in the defense of their own convictions and have accorded Oscar Callaway the right to his honest convictions, religious and political, and have accorded to him absolute and unqualified integrity; for everybody knows, always, what his views are and what his reasons are for his views. His life, private and public, from the cradle to this good hour, has been open, and he is proud of every letter of it, and when S. C. Findley goes to talking about morals, character, courage, capacity, manliness and uprightness and community interest it reminds me, and this is Oscar Callaway talking, of a skunk lecturing on sweet incense.

(Signed) Oscar Callaway.

$9,00000 DEFICIENCY BILL PASSES HOUSE

The lower house of the legislature passed finally the senate bill carrying an appropriation of approximately $900,000 to cover estimated deficiencies in the state departments and eleemosynary institutions for the balance of the present and next fiscal years. This is the bill which carries an item of 100,000 for the enforcement of the present qink boll worm law in the event the governor disapproves the new measure.—Austin Statesman.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Summit, N. J.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life and I think it is a good remedy in such a condition. I could not digest my food and had much pain and burning in my stomach after meals. I could not sleep, had backache, and worst of all were the hot flashes. I saw in the papers a bottle of Vegetable Compound so I tried it. Now I feel all right and can work better. You have my permission to publish this letter."
—VICTORIA KOPPEL, 21 Oak Ridge Ave., Summit, N. J.

If you have warning symptoms such as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backache, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin taking the medicine at once. We know it will help you as it did Mrs. Koppel.

New Figures On Tire Mileage

The Miller Tire makers, in late years, have nearly doubled their tire mileage.

In their factory tests made last year no rival tire could match the Miller service.

Miller treads outwore all rivals by an average of 25 per cent.

Large tire users are making million-mile comparisons. As high as 20 rival makes are compared with Millers. Miller Tires have already won many of these tests.

Large Miller dealers, making careful comparisons, find that Miller Tires increase their customers' mileage from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

It is time to get new figures on tire mileage. Try a Miller, watch the mileage, compare it with the tire that you use opposite.

Hundreds of thousands have in this way come to Miller Tires. And Millers are today the most talked-about tires in America.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted "three score years and ten," to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Bolivar, Mo., making and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—what was then known only as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Stomach, Liver and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user; which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper or small intestines, while others would act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce a mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is now known as Nature's Remedy, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. Ten thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first.

And now as I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each mail brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it. It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take a Nature's Remedy (NR Tablet) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

In Her Mother's Home, Says This Georgia Lady, Regarding Black-Draught. Relief From Head-ache, Malaria, Chills, Etc.

Ringgold, Ga.—Mrs. Chas. Gaston, of this place, writes: "I am a user of Theodor's Black-Draught; in fact, it was one of our family medicines. Also in my mother's home, when I was a child. When any of us children complained of headache, usually caused by constipation, she gave us a dose of Black-Draught, which would rectify the trouble. Often in the Spring, we would have malaria and chills, or troubles of this kind, we would take Black-Draught pretty regular until the liver acted well, and we would soon be up and around again. We would not be without it, for it certainly has saved us lots of doctor bills. Just a dose of Black-Draught when not so well saves a lot of days in bed."

Theodor's Black-Draught has been in use for many years in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, and the popularity which it now enjoys is proof of its merit. If your liver is not doing its duty, you will suffer from such disagreeable symptoms as headache, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, etc., and unless something is done, serious trouble may result. Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a valuable remedy for these troubles. It is purely vegetable, and acts in a prompt and natural way, regulating the liver to its proper functions and cleansing the bowels of impurities. Try it. Insist on Theodor's, the original and genuine. E 72

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Comanche Chief will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publishers. The Chief expressly reserves the right to refuse or reject any advertising not in keeping with its advertising policies, and in case of error in or omission of advertisements it assumes no liability other than the loss for the amount charged for the advertisement.

The Sipe Springs Record has just installed a new Intertype type-setting machine. The Chief congratulates its enterprising young neighbor on this evidence of its prosperity.

George P. Holcomb, who edited a paper at Hico forty years ago and has been connected with numerous other publications, died recently at his home in Chandler. He was 74 years old.

State Press has forgotten himself. Not long since he used columns of valuable space and great hunks of deep reasoning to prove that there is no such thing as a "fixed principle." Now he is criticizing George Harvey, erstwhile supporter of Woodrow Wilson, but at present persona non grata with his royal highness, the president, in this wise: "Harvey is of the wishy-washy political type. He is a brilliant editor, we have heard, but his principles are no more fixed than the stars are stuck still." Will State Press just inform a waiting public about those "stuck still" stars and the real meaning of a "fixed principle" as he now uses the expression?

We regard Farm and Ranch as authority on questions relating to farmers and farming. It makes note of a very gratifying fact in this: "Store accounts are not nearly so numerous as they were in past years. Borrowing at banks has not been so frequent as it once was. Farmers of the southwest will in a large measure get the benefit of the prices they get for their crops and animals this year and are likely to be more prosperous as a result. Products that are not owned may be retained and marketed when prices are suitable. It would seem that there is very little excuse for dumping crops on the markets this year."

The governor of Tennessee has called the legislature of that state to meet August 9 to ratify the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the federal constitution. And this in the face of the fact that the people of Tennessee adopted a constitution which declares that no federal amendment shall be ratified except by a legislature elected after such amendment has been submitted. This might once have been a government of, for, and by the people, but under a so-called democratic administration it has been rapidly changed to a government of, for, and by Woodrow Wilson. Just how long the people are willing to submit to that sort of thing we are absolutely at a loss just now to say.

If the republicans elect the president this year there will be a double duty resting upon the democratic representatives in congress. They cannot permit the republican party to enact a "robber tariff" law that will tax the consumers to further enrich the manufacturers, and they must help to curtail the extravagance of the governmental establishment. In other words, the democratic party should resume its time-honored position as the great conservative force in this country and hold the government to the exercise only of its constitutional functions as protector of the sovereign rights of the states and the individual rights of the citizen.

BUSINESS IN POLITICS

There has never been a time in the history of the American people when politics was less essential to good government and progressive citizenship than today. Our country needs business men, good citizens, and conscientious officials of various business institutions must be encouraged and assisted. The time has come for America to take her place in the lead of the world's affairs. Many of our state and national laws are today inadequate. Some of them were passed and approved by politicians, others by honest, conscientious officials, but for a time in which these laws were needed. Today we are entering a new era for business, for farming and for government. We need leaders who are not controlled by political parties nor influenced by special interests. We need men with pure motives, lofty ideals and conscientious scruples. We need men in whom the people have confidence. Such men are the hope of the nation.—Farm and Ranch.

Farm and Ranch is a splendid paper. It is almost invaluable to the successful farmer. But Farm and Ranch is apt to fall into error as to the need of the hour in securing sound and wise laws to govern us. The founders of our government may not have been great financiers, but they were wise. They knew the weaknesses of mankind and realized the necessity of limiting the powers to be exercised in controlling the affairs of the individual, and of leaving him to work out his own salvation without interference, so long as he was not injuring his neighbor. Yes, we need good men, pure men, and men who understand the business needs of the country. But we also need statesmen with a full conception of the principles upon which governments are founded, if we hope to be happy, contented and free.

CONTEMPTIBLY MALICIOUS

The Brownwood Bulletin, which is printed by the Mayes Printing Company, but the name of whose editor is not disclosed in its columns, emitted the following in its leading editorial one day last week:

The Comanche Chief a good many years ago was a first rate newspaper, and was the champion of good government and good morals and community and state progress. Later it became a spineless sort of sheet, dominated by Oscar Callaway and his ilk, and stood for nothing in particular while trying to please everybody. Quite recently it was bought by the Bailey supporters in Comanche county for the dual purpose of putting the anti-Bailey paper out of business, and giving Bailey a monthpiece in the Texas press. With George Boynton as editor, it is now shouting as did Senator Lodge at Chicago a few days ago that "We must oust Wilson" from the White House.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The Chief ordinarily has a high regard for its neighbors, no matter what may be their political opinions, and always grants them the privilege of thinking as they please on public questions, a right which belongs to every newspaper editor as well as all other citizens in a free country. But for brazen mendacity and uncalculated misrepresentation nothing could eclipse the above. Leaving out the aspersions upon the good name of an honored Comanche citizen, a man who is well able to take care of himself on any occasion, the Chief resents the statement that it is trying to "put the anti-Bailey paper out of business," or that it is anybody's "mouthpiece" but the editor's, whose mouthpiece it should be. Because the Chief, like thousands of other democrats here in Comanche county, and multiplied thousands of the purest and most loyal democrats of Texas and other states, refuses to give its endorsement to the extravagance of the Hobby and Wilson administrations, and because it is contending for the time honored doctrines of the party, it is classed with the republicans who have refused to follow Wilson in his mad program of internationalism. This is, of course, done to prejudice democrats who blindly follow those who are at the present time in control of the party affairs in this state and nation.

The Chief does not know whether Will H. Mayes is still owner of an interest in the Bulletin or not, but he is related to the company, and he is holding a job in the state university, and has been for years. The Bulletin is a "booster" and a "shouter" for anything that will help keep a strangle-hold on the party and keep the "ins" from losing their jobs. The extravagance of the Hobby crowd is so flagrant and apparent that all the candidates for governor in the present campaign have denounced it and promised to curtail the wanton waste of the people's money if elected to the high office of governor. And the Hobby administration has only squandered millions while the Wilson administration has squandered billions. The Bulletin will neither take the side of the people in opposition to this criminal conduct on the part of public officials nor tell the truth about those who are trying to help the people. And the worst of it is, the Comanche Enterprise copies the article from the Bulletin, with its entire approval. The people can pass judgment on these great "moulders of public opinion" and we are willing to let the matter rest there.

ABOUT BOSSES.

In speaking of the domination of the democratic party by Woodrow Wilson, the Brownwood Bulletin says:

It may be true that he could boss the democratic party, but he could not boss a republican congress, and the republican congress spilled the beans. So long as Wilson's principles are right, the democrats of the nation will continue to endorse them, and those who do not want to uphold them have an abundant opportunity to repudiate them by joining Senator Lodge and his republican friends in their campaign of abuse and misrepresentation based upon the Chicago platform. They certainly have no right to remain in the democratic party.

It sounds queer to hear one of that crowd talking about "principles," for the democrats in congress, led by the president, have repudiated every principle that the democratic party ever stood for. For instance, in every democratic national platform until this year the party declared its "adherence to the time-honored doctrine of state rights" and all the great leaders of the party have fought to maintain the sovereign right of each state to control its own internal affairs. And in 1914, when the women were pleading with the president to lend his influence toward the adoption of the federal woman suffrage amendment, he told them that it was his matured conviction that the question of suffrage was one that belonged to each state to settle for itself. Yet we find that he has repudiated that democratic doctrine and has even gone so far as to appeal to the governor of Tennessee to violate his oath of office and call a meeting of the legislature for the purpose of helping to force woman suffrage on Georgia, Delaware, South Carolina, Louisiana and other states who do not want it. And in deserting this principle of state rights which the president a few years ago declared was a "right principle" he has compelled the party to stultify itself and follow him. Hence it is amusing to see these papers that are fawning at the feet of their "master" talk about principles, and that so long as Wilson's principles are "right" the democrats of the nation will "continue to endorse them." The Bulletin may endorse everything President Wilson does, but real democrats will not do it.

POWER TO TAX PROPERTY FOR IMPROVEMENT UPHELD

Austin, Tex., June 23.—Constitutionality of the act of 1909 authorizing cities and towns of Texas to construct permanent street improvements and assess part of the cost against abutting property and the owners thereof and providing for enforcement and collection of such assessments was upheld today by the supreme court in affirming the judgment of the court of civil appeals in the case of Noa Spears, et al., against the city of San Antonio from Bexar county.

The supreme court held that the legislature had the authority to delegate to cities and towns in Texas power to levy such assessments against the owners of abutting property for construction of street improvements, also that the act does not exclude married women from paying the tax on property owned by them.

Farmers and Freight.

Four States Press. There is evidently going to be a fine row when the new railroad freight increases are announced. It is accepted by nearly everybody that there must be increases, because the railroads, whether operated publicly or privately, do not seem able to live on their present income. But nobody wants to pay his part of the increase.

The farmers have been the first important class to register their protest. The Kansas state grange urges the Interstate Commission to avoid discriminating against agriculture in favor of any other industry, with particular reference to grain rates, and is supported in this by the grain dealers.

Farmers do not ask discrimination in rates on farm products," says the spokesman of the grange, "but we do vigorously protest against discrimination in favor of any other commodity, and we wish to express our disapproval of the demands heard here in which narrow commercial or sectional interests have been seeking selfish advantages."

This sounds fair and reasonable. Farmers, naturally, must bear a fair share of the burden, but they should certainly bear no more, and if there is to be discrimination at all it might well be in their favor. Their industry is the greatest and most widely diffused of all industries. Their products are the most essential to the nation. And undue imposition on them will discourage food production at a time when its stimulation is imperative, and raise its cost when food prices are already oppressively high.

DISASTROUS HAIL VISITS SIPE SPRINGS

Sipe Springs, Tex., June 24.—The worst storm in many years swept this region Tuesday, causing thousands of dollars worth of damage to crops and business houses in town. Hail stones larger than hen eggs fell for over an hour, breaking approximately 500 windows in residences and stores, causing a loss, according to merchants, of over $8,000.

SOUTH'S GREATEST LEADER OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR

duties entrusted to him. Give me an honest, true legislature and we will cut the state's expenses from one-third to one-half. We will cut everything but the schools and the good roads. The expenses of the present road administration in Texas consumes 60 per cent of the income for office expenses. You know these politicians have capacious maws. I favor good roads because they are for the comfort of the people, but I also think those who use these roads the most should pay the most for them.

"The automobile owner is the one who should pay his just share of the good roads expense. You never heard such a cry for roads until the automobile came in, did you?"

"I also believe in good schools, and I believe in paying the school teachers a living wage, but I do not believe it is necessary for one to be able to read in Latin and Greek to be educated. A republic cannot survive except by the average intelligence of its people. I would not pay teachers extravagantly. I would turn those professors out who draw salaries for teaching and spend their time on long vacations and studying abroad. If a teacher is not sufficiently educated to teach when he is employed I would not employ him. It would be either work or starve. I believe in that. If you don't, then do not vote for me. You don't find any of those political office holders for me, do you? When I am elected governor about one-half of them will be fired."

The labor union circulars were given attention by the former senator. Reference was made to two circulars the labor unions have issued and circulated against him, he stated, and replied:

"Every member of a labor union has a right to vote against me, but he has not a right to organize within the democratic party. I'll take no part in class hatred. They tell you I don't believe in the 8-hour day, but if I had not worked more than eight hours a day I would not now be able to expose these political sophistries. I'll help the laboring man when he's right, but when he's wrong I'll fight him. I'd never help make any law or help to pass any bill to prevent any man from making an honest living or executing any contract for his own labor."

"Should the farmer have an 8-hour day and pay an 8-hour price for food then labor would think the whole German army had descended upon it's food supply. It's not the high cost of living, but it is the cost of high living that counts, and it is the lack of work and toil that makes living expenses what they are."

"Wilson is for an 8-hour day for all laborers except the farmer. So far as the farmers of the south are concerned they can realize more money for a 11 million bale crop of cotton than for a 16 million bale crop. He can cut down his working time and take an 8-hour day, learn to play with time, as the city man does, and the laboring man can pay 8-hour prices for agricultural goods as the farmer now pays for his 8-hour city-made goods. The farmer pays his taxes, and he is not sent up for perjury because of falsifying his income tax returns."

"The city people set up the clock one hour, changed God's time so they could have one more hour in which to play golf or play hell, whichever it is. There should be an 8-hour day for all classes of people if it's good for them. Why should the farmer work from 6 a. m. until dark in the evening, and receive a third, the pay the city man does for eight hours of work, and when he works by an electric fan in summer and a steam radiator by winter? The farmer should have as good pay as his city brother and for the same day's work."

"We could do without lawyers, and be better off. We could even do without doctors; some of us would agonize and die, but some would live. We could do without banks, and without railroads, but let the farmer go on a strike and lose one year's production and we all would starve; the streets of our cities would grow up in grass."

"I will have to invite the labor unions to make war on me, but, farmers, if you allow the union laborites to punish the man who champions your cause you soon will have no champion to stand for you."

Mr. Bailey declared in favor of the open shop. "Those who are against it are as much so through ignorance as prejudice," he said. "If you operated your farm on a union basis you would have to join the cotton chopper's union, and soon they'd tell you how to run your farm. I am not an enemy of organized labor. I am in favor of it when it is for their defense, but not for the purpose of plucking you. The closed shop is a boycott against labor itself. I do not believe any man should be denied the right to make an honest living because he does not belong to a union. I do not believe that is right, and I deny the right of any labor union to proscribe any man."

"If union labor is to rule Texas let us have Texas union labor to do it, and don't have old Sam Gompers ruling Texas. He claims to have defeated Bailey in the precinct conventions with the union labor vote. I deny the right of any man to sit in a chair on a Brussels carpet in a marble building in Washington and dictate to Texas people what they shall do."

"I say to organized labor that if you undertake to dictate state politics in Texas every union labor lodge in the state will be destroyed. The people of Texas will not tolerate class government. No class government is good. I believe in the masses and not in the classes. Every politician in Texas is afraid of union labor, but I am not, for I am not a politician. If I was I would not have stood by my principles as I have. Is it not dangerous to you, for your state, for your country, for any class to be so predominant as to make politicians afraid of them? In the quiet of your rooms when you think about it you will realize it is unspeakably dangerous."

Reference was made to the duty which the democratic congress placed in its tariff bill on everything that is manufactured and took the duty off everything the farmer produced. "Where is the justice in that?" he questioned. "If a farmer were to send two ship loads of wool to Europe and undertook to ship two carloads of manufactured goods back he would have to pay 50 per cent of its value in duty, yet still that is not as bad as the republicans would have done. They wouldn't have done it in the days when the farmers' unions were in their best shape, but the farmers' unions went into politics. That is what union labor is trying to do—go into politics."

"You had a taste of the government ownership of railroads. It cost the country a billion dollars and it cost you individually a 25 per cent increase on railroad fares and freight rates. The government was not intended to go into business, but to govern. The government can no more conduct a business than you can have cotton ginned at a grist mill or have corn ground in a cotton gin. If the government owned the railroads, the employees would down the government. You can imagine what 2 1-2 million railroad employees, and a half million telegraph and telephone employees and their wives would do with the government. If this were to happen this country would never be able to unload such a burden, and that is what union labor wants to do."

"You are more interested in this gubernatorial election than I am. You could not do me a greater service than to defeat me, but I am in this race for you, for good government. If I go to the office and stay there two terms I would come out of office without a dollar, without a home and without a client, and I would be 61 years of age; but the time has come when someone must make the sacrifice, and contest this crisis which is coming upon our country."

"I do not crave riches or else I could have had them, but I do crave the honor of having served my country well, and to have my children know that their father was a man who served the state and served it faithfully and well. There will be no complaint from me if I am not elected. I still am here to offer you my services, but if you choose another, from whose lips this bitter libel against me has dropped, I pray the good God of nations that you may be blessed with a good governor."

What Next?

To the Chief:

On June 18 the Dallas News carried the following article:

Washington, June 17.—Regulation of child labor on American farms was the next step under consideration by officials of the Children's Bureau of the Labor Department, it was learned today.

The bureau claims that great numbers of farm children are handicapped because there is no restriction as to their working. Instead of the farm boy and girl being more fortunate than their city cousins, it is asserted that the opposite is true.

Instead of being stronger physically, interested officials say the physical examinations for the draft proved the country youth is a shade inferior.

While all but three states have laws regulating child welfare, none of these deal with farm labor.

The federal law providing a profit tax of 10 per cent upon all manufacturing, mercantile and business concerns employing children has cut down child labor tremendously, it is said, but not on farms.

A recent estimate stated 60 per cent of the children in the United States live in rural communities, and nearly a million and a half are employed in farm work.

In a survey made by the Children's Bureau in two rural counties conditions were found which are thought to be typical of other sections of the country. In one county two-thirds of the white children and three-fourths of the negro children from 5 to 15 years of age helped in the fields, cultivating and harvesting the crops. In another county was a group of 240 children between 5 and 15 years of age, all of whom did field work, 80 of the boys, from 9 to 15, being known as "regular plow hands." Over nine-tenths worked in the fields and the timberland.

The Children's Bureau should by all means carry out their investigation of the physical inferiority of children on the farms. When they do, they will find that it is more due to being under-fed than it is to being over-worked. They will find it necessary to look to the proper feeding as well as to the proper working.

Their lack of food is not so much in quantity as it is in quality. The ration of farm children is not properly proportioned and they are, therefore, under-fed. This Federal Children's Bureau should by all means take this into account.

The lack of proper food is due to two things, the parent's inability to supply, and lack of knowledge to prepare it. As much is due to inability to proper proportion and proper preparing as to inability to supply.

For the proper development, then, it becomes necessary for the Federal Children's Bureau to see to it that the children are, first, properly fed, that they have proper food, that the food is properly prepared, that then the children are properly worked, that then they are properly educated.

In order to accomplish this, it will be necessary for the children's Bureau to look to preparing this food, to distribute the ration, to see that the cooks have properly prepared it.

When it comes to the education of farm children, we find that the schools are defective, the teachers are bad, book systems are erroneous. This Federal Bureau will have to look to supplying proper teachers and proper books. And when they have accomplished this, they will further find, as it is already being discovered, that it is necessary to go back to even the birth of the child, and look after the breeding.

The "forward-looking" people are already discussing this question as is shown by the following article in the Dallas News of June 21st:

Chicago, Ill., June 18.—Mating must be elevated to a science!

This is the announcement of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, through its president, Miss Ephie Marshall, at the Evanston national headquarters.

This is possible now, Miss Marshall declared, because

COMANCHE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REORGANIZED

Last Monday night a number of our wide-awake business men met at the Chamber of Commerce hall and took steps toward a re-organization of this most important adjunct of a live, progressive city like Comanche.

Talks were made along various lines of work and every man present expressed himself in a most enthusiastic way in favor of systematic team work by the business men of Comanche to build up the commercial and civic interests of our city. All pledged their hearty co-operation in a financial and personal way toward every enterprise undertaken by the organization.

Dr. C. W. Ory was elected permanent chairman, Hilton Burks vice chairman, A. B. Queen secretary-treasurer, and J. R. Eanes assistant secretary-treasurer.

It was agreed that they meet every Monday night at 8 o'clock and remain in session just one hour. Discussion of matters foreign to the work of the organization was barred from the meeting, all discussions of that character to be postponed until after the adjournment of the sessions.

The matter of securing gas for Comanche is now being looked into, and will be the topic for discussion and action at the meeting next Monday night. Every live, public-spirited citizen of Comanche who is willing to do his part cheerfully and help push the interests of the city and community generally is asked to enroll as a member of the Comanche Chamber of Commerce.

Westmoreland Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Elijah Scott Westmoreland will be held at Board Church next Sunday at 2:30 p. m., by a minister from Waco, a member of the Association of Interdenominational Bible Students. Mr. Westmoreland died June 15th and was buried the following day in the Board Church cemetery, but the funeral services were postponed in order that they might be conducted by a minister of the faith to which he belonged. All friends of the family are invited to attend the services.

HARDLY KNEW HER AT FIRST SIGHT

Miss Peck's Friends Are Astonished by Her Wonderful Improvement.

"I have gained some eight or ten pounds since I commenced taking Tanlac and feel perfectly splendid in every way," said Miss Annie Peck, living at 1421 Charlotte St., Kansas City, Mo. "I just can't think of enough good things to say about Tanlac," she continued.

"My troubles began about a year ago with nervous indigestion and my stomach finally got in such a bad condition that everything I ate disagreed with me. After every meal I would be perfectly miserable from gas forming, and this gas would press up against my lungs and heart until I could hardly get my breath. I also suffered from severe headaches, and became so nervous I rarely got a good night's sleep. Finally I became so weak and run down that I had to give up trying to do any work at all.

"My brother had gotten fine results from taking Tanlac, so I began taking it, too, and right from the first I could just feel my strength coming back. I continued to improve and now am as well and hearty as any one could wish to be and never have a sign of stomach trouble or nervousness any more. I am looking so much better that my friends who haven't seen me since I began taking Tanlac hardly know me at first sight, and I am feeling so perfectly fine I just want to tell everybody about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Comanche by Hamilton Drug Co., and leading druggists in every town.

Loss of Appetite.

As a general rule there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it. 7

GOOSENECK ENDORSES
DEMO. ADMINISTRATION

Fort Worth, Tex., June 17.—"If Harding is elected President of the United States negroes in Texas will get no postoffices, no internal revenue jobs, and will have no representation at Washington," W. H. (Gooseneck Bill) McDonald informed an assembly of negro republicans who gathered for a "report on the Chicago convention" from their leader. "Before I would support a single lily-white elector from Texas in November, I would die and go to hades to spend eternity," he told his hearers.

McDonald went into detail in explaining the things that have been accomplished under a democratic national regime and mentioned that the salaries of negro porters and school teachers have been substantially advanced. "The present democratic regime is willing to give the negroes jobs as porters," he declared, "but if this bunch of republicans gets in power they will even want the porter jobs."

NO LOOKING BACK IN COMANCHE.New Evidence Constantly Being Published.

Since the long succession of Comanche reports were first published in the local press there has been no looking back. Comanche evidence continues to pour in, and—better still—those whose reports were first published many years ago, verify all they said in a most hearty and unmistakable way. Read the experience of Mrs. G. R. Hart. She says: "I had a fall about five years ago and later a pain in my left side developed. If I stood very long the trouble would become more severe and rheumatic pains in my hands and arms added to my suffering. For a long time I didn't know what caused the ailments, but finally concluded it was my kidneys. I knew of Doan's Kidney Pills so I bought some. Five boxes of this remedy cured me."

HASN'T SUFFERED SINCE
Mrs. Hart gave the above statement April 23, 1915, and on April 15, 1919, she added: "I have more faith in Doan's Kidney Pills now than ever, for I have had no return of my former trouble."

COMANCHE MAN MARRIES
FRENCH GIRL IN N. Y.

The following from the Kansas City City Times of June 25, 1920, annunciate the wedding of John T. Straley, son of Mrs. E. A. Burnett, and brother of C. E. Straley of this city, may prove of interest to his many Comanche friends and relatives.

John T. Straley was in the service abroad from May, 1918, to September, 1919. Part of his time he was superintendent of the U. S. Army postal service at Vitrey and Romerantin, France.

He is also a veteran of the Spanish-American war; went out with Co. M. 4th Texas Vol. Infantry, organized at Comanche by Capt. Jesse Holman; later transferred to the regimental band.

The following is the item from the Times:

That Cupid did not confine his activities to any particular group of Uncle Sam's forces in France during the World War, is once again revealed in the romance of John T. Straley, 41 years old, a clerk in the money order department of the main postoffice of this city, and Mlle. H. Creasy of Boulogne-Sur-Mer, France. Mr. Straley went to New York last week where his French fiancée, accompanied by her mother, was due to arrive last Saturday. The wedding was to be in New York, followed by a brief visit with mutual friends of former days in France, now in Pennsylvania.

The romance had its inception while Mr. Straley was billeted at the Creasy home in the summer of 1918, during which time Straley was in the postal service of the United States army, where he served for more than a year.

Mlle. Creasy's father, before his death, was a merchant in Boulogne-Sur-Mer, France, and one of her brothers gave his life in the World War, relatives of the bridegroom are expecting the newlyweds to arrive here the end of this week to live and Mr. Straley will resume his work in the postal department.

PEPSINOL Will Correct Causes
That Keep You Awake

You rolled and tossed restlessly all night and got up feeling worse than when you went to bed. Your tongue was coated. There was a bitter taste in your mouth. Your breath was sour. How many times has this happened? Are you going to wait until you get down sick before you act—before you get Pepsinol and let it correct the digestive faults that are wrecking your nerves and thinning your blood? Pepsinol acts directly on the causes of stomach trouble. It insures complete digestion and the assimilation of all the food that creates strength, blood, nerves and tissues. Its use will keep your brain and body healthy, your nerves calm and steady.

SIPE SPRINGS DEEP TESTS ARE CENTER OF INTEREST

Sipe Springs, Tex., June 28.—Several of the wells in the deep field here are now at the stage where startling results might happen at any time. With good showings of oil in all of them, men who follow the game are on tip-toe with expectancy.

The Lucky No. 3 of the Atlantic Producing Company, three miles north and east of town, is the feature of the week. It blew in unexpectedly last Monday morning and is still in the top of the 2,581-foot pay, making 150 barrels per day. As soon as the company can secure a new crew it will drill the well in.

Three new derricks are up and the tools being moved in the territory northwest of town. Ross, Goss & Fletcher of Fort Worth are to drill on the Whiteside and Paett farms, the latter being near the White Producer of Weaver & Kirkwood. The New Domain Oil and Gas Company of Dallas is starting a well on the Greenwood farm. The Field, No. 1 of the Atlantic Producing Company, which is in this section of the field, has had an excellent showing that was passed up to go to the Ellenberger line in hopes of picking up a larger well in the top of that formation.

The old Moorman well, which was the discovery well in the deep field, made several good-sized heads of oil in the past few days. The derrick was lost by fire several weeks ago and the well has been shut down since. It was the intention of the owners to abandon this hole, but its actions of the last few days may alter their plans.

Several big deals were made last week in the shallow territory that indicate considerable new development to come. C. C. Threlkeld of Los Angeles bought ten acres of the Lee tract for $5,500 and will develop. Henry E. Strassheim of Chicago purchased 20 acres in the Runkles tract, with two producing wells for $12,500 and will also develop. The Desdemona-Sipe Springs Oil Company, a local concern, sold to the C. H. Oil and Development company 500 acres of its holdings in this country and ten acres in the shallow pool, with four producing wells, for a consideration of $55,000.

R. T. Janes of Fort Worth is starting two wells on his old home place, about seven miles southeast of here. This territory has been held favorable for shallow production.

The pipe line runs from the shallow pool for the month of May were 32,700 barrels, a daily average of 1,090 barrels. There are now 153 producing wells in this pool and with the new ones added the total production this month should reach the 2,000 barrel mark or better, as some of the latest wells have come in for some of the best that have been found in the field.

A. L. McDaniel for Representative

Mr. A. L. McDaniel announces this week as a candidate to represent this county in the state legislature. He is well known to most of the people of the county for he has lived here continuously since 1884, and is one of the county's most substantial citizens. He is a farmer and has lived near Gap in the northwestern part of the county, where he has reared a large family, all at present residents of this county. Mr. McDaniel has always been known as a stalwart democrat and has been ardent in support of his party and its principles. He believes in the old-fashioned brand of democracy that favors economy and simplicity in government, with fewer and better laws to control the affairs of our people. He does not favor the new-fangled ideas of some so-called "progressive democrats" that are constantly multiplying offices at the expense of the tax-payers, and believes in conducting the state's business on the same basis of honest service as he would conduct his own. Mr. McDaniel has those traits of character that constitute the highest type of citizenship and in him as their representative the people would have a man worthy of their utmost confidence. He has never sought or held an office, and has simply yielded at this time to the call of a host of friends, who feel that the county and the state need his services that their highest interests may be looked after and safe and sane laws enacted. He has shown himself to be capable and trustworthy, and the Chief bespeaks for his candidacy the most thoughtful consideration of the people.
